SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR

Its peculiar efficacy is due as much to the process and skill in compounding as to the ingredients themselves. Take it in time. It checks disease in its onset, or if they be advanced will prove a potent cure.

No Home should be Without It.

It takes the place of a doctor and daily prescriptions. All who read of its benefits will find it the best preventive of disease and cure for indigestion.

For Whose Benefit. Indigestion, Biliousness, Headache, Nervousness, Depression, No loss of time, no interference with business while taking. For children it is most innocent and harmless. No danger from exposure after taking. Cures Colic, Diarrhea, Bowel Complaints, Fevers, Stomach and Liver troubles, Invalids and delicate persons will find it the mildest and most effective remedy.

A LITTLE taken at night insures refreshing sleep and a natural evacuation of the bowels. A little taken in the morning sharpens the appetite, cleanses the stomach and sweetens the breath.

A PHYSICIAN'S OPINION. "The best remedy I have ever used for twenty years and have never been able to put up a vegetable compound that would, like Simmons' Liver Regulator, promptly and effectively move the Liver to action, and in the same time aid (without weakening) the digestive and assimilative powers of the system."

THE CUP USED BY JESUS.

It is said to be Made of Green Glass and Was Purchased Once for $1,000,000.

The sacred cup, the traditional "Sacred Chalice," belonging to the cathedral at Genoa, which for centuries has been supposed to have been carved from a perfect emerald, has lately been thoroughly inspected by a jeweler, who pronounces it simply green glass. The cup, which is fourteen inches wide and five inches deep, and is by many believed to be the identical cup used by Jesus at the institution of the Lord's supper. After the crucifixion it is said to have fallen into the hands of King Herod, who used it in a triumphant way at many wild banquets.

According to tradition, it came into the hands of the officers of the Genoese republic in the year 1101, having been given as an equivalent for money due from the crusaders, who had captured the relic during their famous expeditions to the east. At the beginning of the fourteenth century the Genoese government purchased the cup for the magnificent sum of $200,000 and afterward redeemed it, more on account of its supposed value as a gem than for its historical worth.

Had the officials known what now seems to be the fact, that the cup was simply an extraordinary specimen of the glass worker's art, the $200,000 would no doubt have been slow in forthcoming. When the French captured Genoa the "Sacred Chalice" was a part of the spoils. Their chemists, jewelers, glass workers and others tested the sacred cup, the majority of the experimenters concurring in the belief that it had been fashioned from a genuine emerald of great size and extraordinary fineness.

Among the dissenters was Chervi, who contended that the sacred relic was made of glass. Since that time the genuineness of the cup has been doubted. The testimony of the American jeweler mentioned adds weight to the supposition. Many believe, be it glass or gem, that it is really what the church claims - a relic of our Saviour. - St. Louis Republic.

STARED AT BY THE DEAD.

A TWO DAYS' VIGIL KEPT BY A CORPSE.

Alone, Unattended, Dejected - In Experience Possible to be Many Others.

[New York Recorder.]

Early one morning recently the guards on the elevated road in New York noticed a middle-aged man apparently fast asleep in an open carriage. Although it was a raw and cold morning, his head was uncovered. His eyes seemed to be staring intently across the street. All day long, as the trains thundered past, the man seemed still to be watching, and even when night came on a glimpse of a white face could be seen staring out into the darkness. The next morning the guards were all on the look-out, and still the man could be seen with his chin resting on the back of his head.

Coroner Donlin, who chanced to be looking out of the car-window during the day, saw at once that it was no common case that stared at him. He left the train, went to the house and there found kneeling by the window the stiffened corpse of a man. For two days he had kept the vigil of the dead. Awakened in the night, alone and oppressed, he had struggled to the window, and, gasping for breath, died. The Coroner's explanation revealed the fact that death had been caused by Bright's disease of the kidneys, which came unannounced, sudden and sure.

Sad! Yes, but how common have these sudden deaths become. They give us warning. There is a quick pain, a struggle, and all is over. Statistics show that 90 per cent. of these sudden deaths are caused by kidney disease. Slowly but surely these great organs have been decomposing, and when the climax comes it comes without warning. But there were warnings. The strange pains, peculiar sensations and uncontrollable feelings were nature's warnings. They may have been considered only the symptoms of a cold, but all the while the disease was working and death surely approaching.

Can nothing be done? Yes; exercise care. Act promptly. Use something to sustain the kidneys. Do, as so many prominent physicians are advising their patients to do, take Warner's Safe Cure. If this great preparation which has saved so many men and women from death by Bright's disease were not a well-known household remedy and the most popular in America, we might hesitate to so warmly endorse it, but being the only absolute specific for this great modern disease, it is commended most unhesitatingly. This entire page could be filled with statements from prominent physicians in both Europe and America of what the Safe Cure has done to lessen Bright's disease, prevent female complaints, and check the great physical evils of a modern life. It is no ordinary medicine, but a scientific discovery which has received more commendations than any other discovery of the present century. The well-known Dr. James D. Bragg says: "Warner's Safe Cure has proved the best medicine for humanity yet devised."

When the uncertainty of life is remembered; when the certainty of death, where care is not exercised, is realized, the importance of the above truths should come home solemnly to all.

Hunting on an Irish Bog.
 Mr. Corballis was out shooting in Ireland with Lord Gormanstown, who weighed 230 pounds, and his agent, weighing 210, when they came to a bog swarming with snipe.

The walking was dangerous, for at every step the surface of the moss for fifty yards around rose and fell like a wave of the sea.

Suddenly Lord Gormanstown put his foot on a tuft of grass, and down he went up to his armpits. The agent shook with laughter, which so disturbed the bog he stood on that it gave way and let him in up to his armpits.

A Modern Parable.
 Now, there was a certain wise man who built his house upon the sand, and the rain descended, and the floods came, and winds blew, but he stood upon that house, and it fell not, for it was in Florida and it was founded upon the good hard dollars of northern tourists, and the owner thereof waxed rich.

And there was likewise a certain foolish man who built his house upon a rock in Harlem, and the taxes and assessments came, and the interest upon the mortgage fell due, and the contractors on the next lot blasted under his walls and loosened them so that it fell, and great was the fall thereof. - Life.

Didn't Know His Own Work.
 The late Mr. Spurgeon did not always recognize his own sermon work. There is perhaps not surprising considering how many sermons he preached, and published during his pastorate.

It is related that he was traveling in Scotland in 1860, and he happened to hear a sermon which moved him. Without disclosing his identity Mr. Spurgeon called on the minister to thank him. "I fear," replied the young man modestly and with courteous candor, "the most of it was taken from a sermon of Mr. Spurgeon's." - London Tit Bits.

SHE TOOK HER TIME.

Even the Terrible Thought of Darning with the House Did Not Hurry Her.

She looked very bewitching standing there before the mirror in her ball dress of soft, white, clinging stuff. A lovely woman was she, and the stoniest of cynics could not blame her for smiling in admiration of her own beauty reflected back to her in the polished glass. As she lingered thus there was a sudden movement of feet in the hall below. She listened.

"Charley mustn't get impatient," she murmured. "I shall not be ready any sooner."

With puff in hand she was examining by a deft touch here and there the alabaster whiteness of the glorious complexion. A knock sounded at the door.

"In a minute," she sweetly observed. "Let Charley'll be ready in just a minute."

She was applying the puff with the most engaging deliberation. The knock was repeated louder than before.

"Run for your life," roared a rough voice through the keyhole; "the house is on fire."

She was looking archly over her shoulder to gain a side view of her queenly figure.

"In a minute," she softly replied. One of the golden tresses had escaped from the restraining pins and hung mockingly beside the shell-like ear.

"Dear me," she exclaimed petulantly; "it does seem as if something must be wrong all the time."

In readjusting the coiffure she disclosed some of the powder from her glorious cheek.

"Plague take it, I shan't!" "Fire!" rang the distracted shouts through the whole house.

"In a minute, I say. I do wish they would be a little more patient." Presently the damask of the fair countenance was restored.

"Break down the door!" It seemed as if many noisy men were gathered at the very threshold of her boudoir.

"I'll be ready in a minute," she called in dulcet tones - tones that make her sweetest sound and place in the throat of woman.

"The fire is right under you." "I'm coming directly."

With a last smiling glance at the counterpane of her beautiful self, she carelessly threw a cloak about her snowy shoulders and opened the door.

"I am ready."

They were obliged, the stairway being burned, to carry her down a ladder. But the triumph was hers. No man nor the elements could make her hurry at her toilet. - Detroit Tribune.

Forrest's Great Power.
 An effeminate young man, an intense admirer of Forrest, enlisted among the supers so as to be nearer his idol. At the end of Forrest's most effective speech then on, the new actor was so overcome that he fainted.

The incident so pleased the "old man" that he called him to his dressing room, where, after a few remarks, he presented him with a dollar as memento of the occasion. On rejoining his fellow supers, five in number, the happy recipient spoke of his good fortune, dilating upon the cause thereof. At the next performance Forrest kept his eye on him to see if he could again so overcome him as to cause him to faint. When he reached the scene and climax his astonishment can be imagined when six of the supers fell over in a dead faint. - San Francisco Post.

A Peanut Factory.
 A peanut factory is a place where they put the "goobers" through some such process as wheat has to undergo when it is being cleansed of chaff and rid of cockle. The most complicated machinery is used to assort and polish the nuts, and when they are packed in the ninety pound bags the prime class brings by the pound from $2.75 to $3 a bag. The "tops" bring this price in northern cities, and are mostly used by the well-to-do. The street corner vender sells at his apple stand the second grade, and the old lady at the doubtful "tailers." - Baltimore Sun.

Best Part of a Hide.
 Experiments have been made to determine which portion of a hide of leather gave the best results when made into belting. Four strips, each eighteen inches long and two inches wide, were cut and carefully tested in a machine. One of the pieces from the center of the hide broke at a strain of 2,490 pounds, equal to 14,940 pounds per foot of width, while the strip from the upper part of the shoulder parted at 1,130 pounds. - New York Journal.

Where All Men Are Equal.
 When Colbert, the celebrated minister of Louis XIV, was elected to the Academy, some of his fellow members addressed him as monsigneur - my lord. "Here I am only monseigneur, like all the others," replied Colbert, in recognition of the fact that within the Academy all were equal. - Blackwood's Magazine.

Where Chinamen Do Not Fish.
 Chinamen are forbidden to fish for salmon in the Columbia river on penalty of being shot on sight. Therefore they do not fish. - Washington Star.

A Spanish border belonging to Mr. Chas. Filippini became frightened and broke from their fastenings near Weyl's store last Tuesday afternoon. The animals went through town at a lively gallop, but kept in the middle of the road and thus avoided a collision with the many teams tied in front of the stores on Napa street.

The horses, after getting out of town, became quieted down and finally stopped on their own accord. No damage was done to either horses or wagon.

Joe Lewis had a narrow escape from being stabbed to death last Tuesday. He became involved in a dispute with Robert Atwood, which led to blows. During the melee, which lasted but a few seconds, Atwood made a slash at Lewis with a large jack knife. The blade of the weapon struck a heavy watch chain and was deflected. The chain was cut in two and Lewis' coat, vest and shirt were ripped open, the rents being directly over the left side of the stomach. The blade of the knife barely missed the flesh. Lewis refused to swear out a warrant and no arrest followed. The cause of the difficulty is unknown, both parties refusing to go into details.

AN IMPORTANT SALE.

A Valuable and Highly Improved Home Offering.

On Monday, June 20th, at noon, the beautiful home farm belonging to the estate of Mrs. Ewell near this place, will be sold at guardian's sale. The farm consists of 36 acres in a high state of cultivation of some of the richest agricultural land in this favored valley. On the farm is a fine substantial dwelling, barns, outhouses, etc. The beautiful Sonoma creek, one-half the water rights of which belong to the estate, flows alongside the western boundary of the property. This sale ought to attract buyers who are looking out for bargains. The property must be sold to pay off an indebtedness of the estate.

This is one of the rarest chances ever afforded for some one to get a splendid home and a productive farm cheap. The place is located only one mile west of Sonoma, which is accessible to the city by two lines of railway, has a High School, public school and enjoys educational advantages second to no town of its size in the state. It is not necessary to expatiate on the climate, for everyone who reads the newspapers knows what the climate of Sonoma Valley is.

The New Assembly Districts of Sonoma County.

It is not generally known among the voters of this county that the last Legislature abolished the three Assembly districts of Sonoma and formed two new districts in their stead.

The new Assembly districts are known as the Sixteenth and Seventeenth, and Sonoma county will only elect two Assemblymen this year instead of three, as heretofore.

The Sixteenth district is composed of Anale, Bodega, Mendocino, Petaluma, Ocean, Redwood, Salt Point and Vallejo Townships.

The Seventeenth district comprises the Townships of Sonoma, Santa Rosa, Knight's Valley and Cloverdale.

Thus it will be seen that Sonoma, Petaluma and Vallejo Townships, which under the old law were entitled to an Assemblyman, have been split up, Sonoma being in the one district and Petaluma and Vallejo in the other.

Birthday Party.

Miss Elsie Appleton celebrated the 12th anniversary of her birth last Saturday afternoon at the home of her parents near Verano. About 35 lads and lassies assembled to do honor to their fair young hostess.

The usual pleasant festivities were entered into and kept up until the dainty refreshments were served, which consisted of all kinds of cakes, candy, nuts, fruits and ice cream.

Large jars of iced lemonade stood in prominent places, which greatly added to the comfort of the young people. Many handsome and useful presents were received, which will long be remembered by the pleasant little lady who received them. The latter part of the afternoon was devoted to dancing. It was after sundown before the last guest departed for home.

Tall and Prolific Wheat.

A small field of wheat growing on the residence grounds of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Wegner, on Broadway, consisting of about one acre, shows to what perfection wheat can be grown in this valley if properly cultivated. The wheat is the finest stand we ever saw. It is six feet high on a level. The heads are large and full and it is no exaggeration to state that this acre of wheat will produce between 75 and 100 bushels. The seed was sown in January.

A Valuable Leg.

The San Francisco and North Pacific Railway Company have been sued for $10,000 damages in the Superior Court of this county. The suit is brought by B. H. Westcott, a minor, through his guardian, Oliver Westcott, for injuries received by a falling chute belonging to the railway company. The boy's leg was broken, and the very modest sum of $10,000 is claimed for that leg, which is still a part of the boy's anatomy, the limb not being sufficiently hurt to cause amputation.

NEW ROAD LAW.

Office of Road Overseer Abolished.

The Supervisor of Each District to be Ex-Officio Road Commissioner.

The last Legislature amended the road law and abolished the office of Road Master. Under the new law, which goes into effect on the first day of next January, each Supervisor shall be ex-officio Road Commissioner of all the roads in his district. He shall see that all contracts made and all orders pertaining to roads and bridges in his district are properly executed.

The Board of Supervisors are to have general supervision of the roads in this county, and must cause to be surveyed, viewed, laid out and recorded such highways as are necessary for public convenience.

At the first regular meeting of the Board in January, 1893, and at any regular meeting thereafter, the Board shall advertise for sealed bids for keeping in order and repairing all roads, culverts and bridges in the county, but they may in their discretion, exclude from such contracts the repairing of any and all bridges. In case no bids are received, the Board shall order the work to be performed by the Road Commissioner of that district.

If any contractor neglects to perform work according to his contract, the Road Commissioner shall do it, and the cost of such work shall be deducted from the quarterly allowance of said contractor. The Road Commissioner is to inspect the work done in his district and to make a written report to the Board quarterly.

For the purpose of watering roads in any part of the county, the Board of Supervisors may erect and maintain water works, and for such purpose may purchase or lease real estate.

No Road Commissioner shall be directly or indirectly interested in any contract or work in his district. He shall cause to be destroyed thistles, cockleburrs and all other noxious weeds on the road side in his district, but no contract shall be let to this effect.

No Road Commissioner shall receive more than $300 in any one year for his traveling, twenty cents per mile one way.

The Board of Supervisors may appoint, if they deem best, a Road Inspector for the county, but if appointed no Supervisor shall receive salary or pay as Road Commissioner when the Road Inspector serves as such.

Notice of bids for contracts shall be advertised in a weekly paper in the county for four weeks prior to the opening bids. Bids shall be awarded for a term of no less than four years. No contract shall be awarded to any person who is not a qualified elector of the county, and bids shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder.

The Board of Supervisors may annually levy on every male person over 21 years and under 50 years of age—expecting honorably discharged soldiers and sailors whose discharge dates between April 1st, 1861, and September 1st, 1865—a road poll tax not exceeding three dollars, said tax to be collected by the County Assessor.

We visited an ex-Judge of Sonoma one day last week and were compelled to tie our nag to the editor's hitching post. There seems to be a lack of conveniences of this kind which leads us to think that:

A hitching post, however, tall. Is an accommodation for one and all. Will prompt move on the part of Small. Will remedy this evil before the Fall.

GOOD LUCK.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is often called the Good-Luck Baking Powder.

Owing to the fact that good luck always attends the use of Dr. Price's, it is not essential to use it the moment it is mixed nor is it required to have the oven always just so, as in the case with ammonia or alum powders. It is not luck after all, but the exact accuracy and care exercised in the preparation and combination of all the ingredients of Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder. Competent chemists are employed to test the strength and purity of each ingredient. Nothing is trusted to chance. Hence, it is always uniform in its work.

House wives never fail to have "good luck" in making most delicious bread, biscuit, pastry and cakes that remain moist and sweet. Only Baking Powder that contains the white of eggs.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is reported by all authorities as free from Ammonia, Alum, or any other adulterant. In fact, the purity of this ideal powder has never been questioned.

Deserving Praise.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never had a single complaint, or that have given us such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, satisfaction or no. We do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. E. Wegner's Drug Store.

A Little Girl's Experience in a Light-house.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Trecoff are keepers of the Lighthouse at Sand Beach, Napa, and are blessed with a daughter, four years old. Last April she took over with Mother, followed with a dreadful cough and turning into a fever. Doctors at home and at Detroit treated her, but in vain, she grew worse rapidly, until she was a mere "bundle of bones." Then she tried Dr. King's New Discovery, and after the use of two and a half bottles, was completely cured. They say Dr. King's New Discovery works its weight in gold, yet you may get a trial bottle free at Dr. Wegner's Drugstore.
